

International choral Festival

MINES EN CHOËURS

The festival is born from our choir

Our men choir, les Voix de l'Est.

14 men who sing a capella and in 4 voices.

His conductor, André Kogovsek. Musician formed in the Aumetz music School and in the Metz Conservatory. Trained in choral conducting in Slovenia.

It performs traditional and popular world songs in 15 languages and dialects.

He gives a dozen concerts a year, in Lorraine, of course, but also everywhere in France and Europe.

Rehearsal every Tuesday evening in our premises of the House of Associations of Aumetz.

More details on their site lesvoixdelest.com.

Introduction

Located in a sector long marked by the exploitation of iron mines, we want a festival above all popular while highlighting the quality of the choirs.

For a long time affected by the workers' immigration from which most of the members of our association come, we also want it international.

The choirs that, since 2014, have made us the pleasure of participating, perfectly reflect this double will.

Introduction

Finally, we want it warm and friendly, without competition. We want it full of encounters and discoveries of other languages, other styles, other lives.

Everything is done to ensure that everyone has a good weekend, including the discovery program of our region that we concoct for them every year.

And since the beginning, the Mines en Chœurs festival has always been particularly appreciated by the participants who, for many, we have been able to find in their own country.
